

DUSTY NEUMAN

Dusty Neuman is the writer of the hit song, You Don't Have To Be Lonely, recorded and released by Josh Ward in 2017, who took the song to #1 on the Texas charts in January 2018. Encouraged by this unexpected success, Dusty promptly recorded a short but impactful 6-song collection of his original music which Dusty released in May 2018: his acclaimed Brighteyes EP.

Dusty's inspired songwriting reflects life in rural southeast Texas where he was born and raised. It's an environment embodied by a down-home, folksy character that his music justly portrays. His most recent single releases include Spike Driving Blues, Any Less Lonely, Ramblin' Soul's Prayer and Evaporated Milk Blues.

Dusty still calls Dayton, Texas, the small town of his birth, "home" regularly touring his home state and parts beyond to share his music and natural good humor with the rest of the world.
