

ZACH NEIL

Zach Neil comes from a family of farmers that taught him the value of hard work. Farming has been the family business for several generations, and Zach always thought he would follow in his dad's footsteps. But when he was 16 years old, his band entered a "Battle of the Bands" competition and tied for first place. That's when he decided to take the work ethic he acquired from his family and focus on a career in music. Zach is a singer, songwriter and live performer who uniquely puts his own twist on traditional country music.

Zach has three Top 40 Texas country singles under his belt. Following his 2021 "Half Bad," Zach is releasing "Long Live the Cowboy," an upbeat tribute to the iconic figure that rides into the sunset, along with our military men and women.

Zach is already getting a great response from fans when he plays the new song live and is looking forward to it reaching other country fans on Texas country radio.

Zach is currently on tour. "I love playing live. Every show is different, every crowd is different. Each night on stage is a chance for me to grow, to make new friends, and to share my love for country music."
